The Election

The weather on election day, Tuesday, was quite like that of election day two years ago, except that on the latter day, besides rain, snow, and wind there was, in addition, hail. Tuesday certainly wasn't conducive to Republican victory traditionally as far as weather was concerned.

While Michigan went into the Willkie column, Governor Dickinson went down to defeat before the popular state highway commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner. Willkie carried Crawford county, while Van Wagoner led the Governor in the county by 18 votes.

The big upset among the county officers was the victory by James Post, Jr., over the veteran county treasurer William Ferguson. The majority was only eight votes. Ferguson led Post in the county by nine votes until returns from Lovells township came in with a majority of 17 for Post, thus cutting down the Ferguson vote from nine majority to eight defeat. The heavy vote by CCC veterans of Camp AuSable no doubt gave Post the votes he needed for victory.

"Jack" Papendick, Republican, lead all the candidates of both parties, with a vote of 1012. He was opposed for the office of sheriff by Orel (Blackie) Levan, Democrat.

The local candidates for the office of judge of probate, running on a non-partisan ticket, were Judge Charles E. Moore, the present incumbent, and Clayton McDonnell, son of Postmaster James McDonnell. Judge Moore was appointed to that office by former governor Frank D. Fitzgerald upon the death of Probate Judge George Sorenson. Four years ago he was elected and has given the public intelligent and dependable service in that important office. He is a practicing attorney and stands well among the people of the county and his re-election was no surprise.

Congressman Roy O. Woodruff was elected by over 5,000 majority. Ben Carpenter of the 28th district was easily elected over Charles F. Klump. Carpenter has already served his district in the senate, he voluntarily dropping out for a number of terms. He defeated the present incumbent Miles Callaghan in the primary election.

William Green, incumbent, Republican, is returned to the house of representatives for the Presque Isle district. He defeated Anthony Cushman, Democrat.

Merle F. Nellist, Republican, prosecuting attorney; Axel M. Peterson, Democrat, county clerk, and Ronnow Hanson, Democrat, registrar of deeds, were unopposed in both the primary and general elections.

In the three cornered vote for coroners, Norman Butler and Alfred Sorenson were elected, while Dr. Stanley Stealy, present incumbent, lost out by less than 100 votes.

A tabulated report of the voting in each township appears in this issue of the Avalanche. There were a few votes cast for the Socialist candidate Norman Thomas and one for Roger Baughson of the Prohibition party.

PRE-NUPTIAL SHOWER

Miss Pauline Schoonover was guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower and tea of lovely appointments given at the home of Mrs. Esbern Olson with Mrs. Olson and Mrs. Fred Welsh as co-hostesses Saturday afternoon.

A miniature bride, flanked by four white lighted tapers and crystal baskets of white bebe chrysanthemums tied with white tulle bows made a very attractive decoration for the tea table at which Mrs. T. P. Peterson and Miss Sophie Cole poured.

Following the serving of tea Miss Schoonover was deluged with colorful packages containing gifts from her many friends present.

Wedding to Take Place At Columbus, Ga.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Schoonover and daughter, Pauline, left Sunday morning for Atlanta, Ga., where they will be met by Lieut.

William Tufts. The party will leave there for Columbus where Miss Schoonover and Mr. Tufts will be married on Wednesday.

State Senator

Thompson Funeral

Funeral services for James D. Thompson, who passed away on Oct. 29 in East Tawas, were held in West Branch on Friday afternoon at the Stuenkel Funeral Home with interment at that city. Mr. Thompson was a member of the Masonic lodge of West Branch and was buried with Masonic honors. He also belonged to the Bay City Consistory and the Elph Kure of Saginaw.

Mr. Thompson was born in Kent county, Michigan, Oct. 4, 1878. He had lived in Grayling for many years or until 1920 when he went to St. Helein, and that had since been his home. He worked as railroad telegrapher for the Manistee & Northwestern Railroad, the Michigan Central, and the Pore Marquette for a long number of years. An ardent sportsman, he spent a lot of his leisure time in the woods, hunting and fishing.

Surviving are his widow Lydia, two sons, Grant of Grayling and Wayne, of Clarkston, Mich., and eight grandchildren.

School Carnival Tues. Nov. 19th

On Tuesday evening, November 19th, the Grayling High School Athletic association will stage a carnival to help defray expenses in sponsoring athletics. All people are urged to set the date aside and plan to attend because plans are being formulated to produce one of the outstanding events of the year.

Bingo will be in progress. Beautiful blankets will be offered. Park plan dancing will be one of the high lights with a high class orchestra contracted. Games of skill will be abundant with desirable prizes to the lucky winners. The basketball throw, cart game, penny tossing, and shooting gallery will be there to mention a few. Hot dogs, donuts, soft drinks, and cider will be served during the entire carnival by experts.

Two excellent shows will be staged in the auditorium at 8 and 9:30 featuring music and specialty numbers. The fishing pond will be one of the best with over 200 varieties. You'll be able to have your fortune told by an expert. The wonders of the world will be exhibited. A mystery booth points to be a feature.

All in all, it is planned to have a full evening so one and all plan to attend. Remember the date, Tuesday, November 19th. Save your pennies, nickles, and dimes for a great time.

Will Make Clean Sweep
The United States coast and geodetic survey is going to "sweep" the entire area of Boston harbor to see if there are any uncharted reefs and rocks. The sweeping will be done by two boats with a weighted wire drag between them. Any obstruction will be noted and investigated by divers.

Womans Club

The first meeting for the year of the Womans club was held at the home of Mrs. Stanley Stealy Monday evening.

The president, Mrs. Willard Cornell, was in the chair. Following the business session the new and old members were introduced and welcomed by Mrs. Cornell. She also read her report on the District Convention held in Mt. Pleasant in October.

Miss Margrethe Bauman announced that a skit "Toujours L'Amour"—"The Eternal Try Angle", would be given by Mrs. Ernest Hoesli and Mrs. Emerson Frye. The skit was very humorous and brought out a round of laughter.

Frederic Plans To Entertain Hunters

Frederic, a small village eight north of Grayling, will be host to many hundreds of hunters during deer season, and are already planning for the last fifteen days of November.

Frederic Rural Agricultural School is sponsoring, through the Senior Social Studies, a "Better Deer Season." Knowing that there are over 200 square miles in our school district that is better deer land than anything else; that there are plenty of deer in this large area; and that we are only six hours, or less, driving from all places in southern Michigan; that gives us all the reasons for making a "Better Deer Season" in Frederic and surrounding territory.

To help many hunters, the seniors have erected a large "Hunters Den," which will be free information headquarters for all hunters traveling on highway U. S. 27. The Free Services offered are many and valuable.
Places recommended for board and room for hunters will make it easier for many hunters new to this locality. Many homes have old hunters coming back as well as new ones already booked for this season. Already the school is answering inquiries and information requests. Large maps will show where to hunt and how to get there as well as lists of good guides for hire at any time, and where to find them.

Knowing that most deer hunters like entertainment and fun after a day's hunting, the community and school has attempted to fill the bill. On November 14th and 15th will be the School Carnival planned for the occasion, with many amusements, free gifts and prizes and plenty of fun for everyone.

November 16th the Sportsman's Club will hold their annual Feather Party. A deer season is not complete without a true Hunters Ball, so on November 22nd is the "Swingout Hunters Ball," with Tim Doolittle and His Radio Gang furnishing the fun, music and floor show.

November 27th is the date of the annual Senior Play.

The Weather

This week we have been having a little taste of winter weather, with snow Wednesday morning-early. Saturday the thermometer rose to 50 degrees in the afternoon, dropping to 38 at 6 p. m. Sunday at 6 a. m. the mercury stood at 42 rising to 52 in the afternoon. The sun was out all day bright and warm, and many took advantage of the nice day and went for a long ride.

The highest temperature on Monday was 53 degrees, and was another nice day. Tuesday it began getting somewhat colder, with the mercury dropping to 35 at 6 p. m. and rain most of the day, turning to snow in the evening.
Wednesday at 6 p. m. it was 25 degrees, and the warmest in the afternoon was 32. This morning (Thursday) the mercury stood at 23 degrees.

Collection Plate Envelopes

The congregation of the century-old Kanawha Salines Presbyterian church of Malden, W. Va., has a highly successful method of obtaining contributions. Members are not called upon to make annual pledges.
Instead, blank envelopes are handed out each Sunday. Members enclose donations and put the envelopes on the collection plate, without identifying them.

Interesting Events In Grayling 23 Years Ago

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES OF THE AVALANCHE OF 23 YEARS AGO

Thursday, November 8, 1917

On November 1, amusement patrons began paying 10 per cent more for their theatre and movie tickets. The new war amusement tax is responsible for the increased cost.

Capt. W. M. Case, wife and two children left Grayling Thursday for an extended vacation. They intend to return to Grayling about April 1.

The Salling Hanson Company band mill closed down last week Thursday night for the winter, but due to a breakdown of the Big mill, operations were temporarily resumed. It was necessary to close one of the mills because of the shortage of labor in the mills and also in the lumber woods.

News was received Monday that George W. Brott has passed away at the home of his son at Tekonsha, Mich., his boyhood home, as a result of asthma trouble. Mr. Brott left Grayling for Tekonsha on October 14 of this year, and at that time was not in very good health. During the time he lived in Crawford county he was engaged in farming, and dealt in real estate business. He is survived by four sons, Alton, of Beaver Creek; Elmer of Colorado who is now residing somewhere in the southern states, and Roy of Tekonsha.
Funeral services were held in Tekonsha Wednesday.

Late election returns in New York state confirm the carrying of "Woman's Suffrage." In Ohio suffrage lost, as did prohibition.

Camp MacArthur, Waco, Texas —With the arrival of the final allotment of the 3,000 selective servitors from Camp Custer Saturday examination of the men is under way. It was unofficially would be given surgeons' certificates of disability and discharg-

Young men of the country between the ages of sixteen and twenty-one, not now employed, are called upon by President Wilson to service the nation by joining the United States Boys Working reserve.

Mrs. John Morrissey took her little daughter to the hospital in Ann Arbor Wednesday to have her eyes examined. The eye trouble is a result of an accident caused by some boy throwing a stone, hitting her in the eye, two months ago.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Payson have arrived from Toledo, for their annual hunting trip, and are at their cabin on the AuSable.

Mrs. Claude Gilson left Wednesday for Sunfield, Mich., to visit relatives and friends, while

Washington—American troops captured by the Germans in the trench raid November 3 probably were trapped in their dugouts and forced to surrender or be blown to pieces with hand grenades without a chance for their lives. There were about 20 men in the trench. This is the first capture of Pershing's army that has been made.

Mrs. George Isenhauer returned home Tuesday from Bay City where she had been called the Friday previous by the death of was killed instantly in coal mines there.

brated its twentieth birthday

Non-partisan News Letter Michigan Press Association
By GENE ALLEMAN

Lansing—When someone a few months ago signed the names "Joe Palooka," "Gyp the Blood," "Charlie Potato," and "Joe Manure" to a legal petition seeking a referendum on an act of the 1939 legislature, he probably didn't realize the public-service he was performing.

Those names were among thousands signed on petitions filed with the secretary of state.
They were supposed to be qualified electors of the state of Michigan, and the petitions carried affidavits saying they were so.
But the fact was that they were not only fictitious but they were scribbled into the document in blithe defiance of Michigan's basic law.

What was the result? Was someone called to account for this prankful misuse of a democratic privilege?

No, the only thing that happened was that the names finally were scratched off the list and the rest of the petition was accepted by the department of state as valid. There were numerous other evident deceptions on that particular batch of petitions.
Some names were accompanied by non-existent ward designations and others were written one after another down a page in the handwriting of a single person.

Authority Limited

This case was carried to the state supreme court in an effort to invalidate these petitions. The court held that under the constitution the secretary of state is merely a ministerial officer and has no authority to look behind the face of the petitions. It was held, however, that the department of state may eliminate names which are manifestly fictitious, such as "Joe Palooka"; Those that have no addresses given; and those listing non-existent wards.

Thus the funny names served one important purpose. They were funny enough to attract statewide publicity and to highlight, at least to some degree, a grave weakness in the state's election machinery. The instances cited here are by no means all that could be mentioned to illustrate the disregard of the purposes as to petition signing. A careful study of almost any batch of petitions filed to qualify an issue for the ballot, indicates that this form of voting has become something of a farce.

It might be argued whether signing a petition is the same as voting at the polls. However, the constitution provides the same qualifications. That is to say, only qualified electors may do either. The big difference appears to be that while there is ramified machinery set up to prevent fraud at the polls and to punish the culprit who tampers with the ballot box, there is little besides his own conscience to deter the petition promoter.

Constitution to Blame?

The fault, it appears, rests principally with the constitution itself. In the articles dealing with initiatory petitions for legislation or constitutional amendments it is provided that each section of a petition shall bear the affidavit of the persons soliciting the signatures, affirming that the signatures are genuine.

"Such petitions so verified," the constitutional provision reads, "shall be prima facie evidence that the signatures thereon are genuine and that the persons signing the same are qualified electors."

Is it any wonder that the supreme court ruled that the state department could not go back of the face of such petitions?

To the layman, at least, it seems as though something should be done about the situation. Taught to regard an affidavit as something which cannot be toyed with by practical jokers or high pressure lobbyists, he is inclined to wonder why "somebody" doesn't do something to correct the legal setup, if that is what is responsible for the loose practices.

Public Indifference

Of course, public indifference to the responsibility of petition signing is partially to blame. It is commonly admitted that persons put their names on petitions they know nothing about other than what the circulator may tell them. The recent barrage of protests made public by persons who said they signed Communist party petitions under the belief the documents were for an entirely different purpose, illustrates the point.

What are the chief evils of promiscuous petition signing?
They might be classified as:

1. Issues are put on the ballot that perhaps have no right to be there other than because an aggressive, small group wants it.
2. Cluttering-up of the ballot by too many complex proposals serves to confuse voters and to distract their attention from really worthwhile measures.
3. Representative government is not given a chance to function freely.

Possible Remedies

A remedy for the petition problem then, appears to have two sides. One is a more active and enlightened public consciousness and the other is a more effective legal setup to regulate petitions.
It has been suggested by some observers that certain of the same safeguards which have been thrown about the ballot box should be used to safeguard petition signing. In other words, persons wishing to affix their names to a petition should, perhaps, be required to go to some public officer in their vicinity who would have a petition form available and who would be able to certify that they were qualified electors.

Is this too harsh a measure?

Those who favor such a rigid plan contend that it would eliminate the various falsifications so prevalent now; that it would cause persons to think seriously about an issue before deciding to go to a polling place and sign a petition; and that it would tend to reduce the number of non-essential proposals appearing on the ballot.

Ballot Restrictions

Proponents of such a scheme point back to the days when there were no voting booths, no official ballots, and little if any secrecy at the polls. Ballot box stuffing, false counting, counterfeiting of ballots, "repeater" voters, and impersonators were all too common features of election day. These practices have been either eliminated or greatly modified as a result of a tightening of election restrictions.

Frenchman Perfected Soap Soap, now freely used in every household, was originally made for the elite who were particularly fastidious and could afford to indulge in the luxury of frequent bathing. At first a crude product, it was improved in the early Nineteenth century by Chevreul, a French chemist who evolved the chemistry of soap and worked out the proper steps in manufacturing it.

EMBARGO ON JAPAN DEBATED

The group inside the cabinet which favors a complete stoppage of Japan's raw materials of war, especially her oil, includes Secretary of War Stimson, Secretary of the Navy Knox, Secretary of Interior Ickes, and Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau—also certain admirals in the navy. Perhaps it is significant that the strongest advocates of complete embargoes against Japan are the three Republican members of the cabinet—Stimson, Knox and Ickes.

On the other hand, the state department plus some of the admirals favor a go-slow policy toward Japan. They believe in applying the embargoes gradually, or as Mr. Ickes describes it, "cutting off the dog's tail by inches."

The state department concurs that cutting off Japan's oil would paralyze her fleet after her present 2½ months' supply was exhausted. But they also believe it would force Japan to move into the Dutch East Indies immediately in order to get more oil.

Last week one argument over this point and over general naval policy in the Far East developed into a hot debate between the navy, on one side, and Hull and Welles on the other. It took place at the White House, in front of the President, who did most of the listening.

Hull and Welles contended that if we stopped Japan's oil supply she would certainly attack the Dutch East Indies, and that the United States could not possibly afford to have ships in that area because they might be needed in Atlantic waters. Welles pointed out that the Germans might seize the Azores or the French naval base at Dakar, West Africa, which would menace South America.

To this, Admiral Leahy, now governor of Puerto Rico and one of Roosevelt's closest naval advisers, replied:

"Gentlemen, we don't have to worry about Dakar and the Azores now. The British fleet can still prevent Germany from taking them. But a few months from now it may be different. By next spring, or even this winter, the war may have gone against the British in the Mediterranean, and then we'll have two oceans to defend. Now we have only one."

U. S.-BORN JAPANESE

Only insiders are aware of it, but the new nationality act slaps down another embargo on Japan.

It plugs up a hole in the old immigration laws which permitted American-born Japanese to go to Japan, serve several years in the Japanese army, then return to the U. S. A. and resume citizenship. This has been quite common among the large Japanese population in Hawaii, where many Japanese parents consider it their duty to the emperor to send their children to Japan for military service.

That the new law is specifically aimed at Japan—and her Axis allies—is shown by the fact that when the act was originally written, anyone who enlisted in a foreign army automatically forfeited citizenship. This would have expatriated Americans serving with the Canadian and British armies.

The bill actually passed the house in this form, but then the senate immigration committee did some editing. As finally passed, citizenship is not lost if no oath of allegiance is taken. Canada and Britain do not require the oath of Americans. Japan and her Axis pals do.

Note—The new law also provides that American parents of children born abroad must have resided in the U. S. at least 10 years prior to a birth in order to transmit citizenship. This is aimed at expatriates who retain their citizenship, with all its obligations on the government to protect them, but don't think enough of the United States to live in it.

ARMY PROMOTIONS

Any lowly recruit in the new conscript army has a chance to become an officer within the single year of training.

There has been a lot of confusion about this, and editorials have been written complaining that this is not possible. But Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff, wants it known that the army is still democratic.

Marshall points out that after the first nine months of service, any recruit has a chance to qualify for the "candidate schools" to train recruits for commissions. These schools will be organized during the last three months of the year of service.

In other words, as Napoleon put it, "Every soldier carries a marshal's baton in his knapsack."

POLITICAL CHAFF

Democratic Rep. Bill Schulte of Indiana won a lot of kudos for himself from both the A. F. of L. and C. I. O. for his "prevailing wage" amendments to the bill for the construction of barracks for draftees.

Liberal Rep. Frank Havenner of San Francisco got an unusual send-off when he departed to open his campaign. President Roosevelt sent him a "good luck" telegram and Speaker Sam Rayburn a letter hailing him as one of the most valuable members of the house.

Decommissioned Subs Go Back to Duty

These submarines, shown tied up at Charlestown, Mass., said their farewell to arms after the World War armistice in 1918. Now they are getting ready to stage a comeback. These eight, and many others, will be recommissioned and returned to duty with the planned Atlantic fleet. The navy expects to have 36 of these submarines ready for duty by January 1. In addition, it has 104 first-line submarines, and 81 more which are now in the process of building.

Mass Pilot Training Starts

National Horse Show Opens

Teams from four American countries will compete at the National Horse show to be held in New York November 2-13. Above, one of the contestants practicing for the jumping contest, Amory L. Haskell (upper left) is president of the National Horse show, and Ned King (lower right) is manager. Proceeds will go to the American Red Cross.

Instead of a Campaign Button

Here's a new wrinkle, from Hollywood, designed by Max Factor Jr., for a red-hot political campaign. Starlets Joan Barclay and Muriel Zaler wear their choice for President in the form of an old-fashioned beauty patch, with the initials cut out of court plaster. As a fad it's good until November 6, but not a day longer.

Box Social And Dance

The Juniors are sponsoring a box social for Friday evening. The students from the upper six grades are all invited to take part. The lunch boxes are to be furnished by the young ladies and will be sold to the highest bidder among the young men. A prize is to be given for the most attractive and tasty lunch box. We have set a price of not more than 20c for the lunch and an admission fee of 5c which is to pay for the music machine. Dancing will start at eight o'clock and at ten the boxes will be sold.

The money obtained will be used to pay for the play books so we're planning for a good time for a good crowd.
